Academic Misconduct Policy for Continuing Nursing Education and Nursing Professional Development Educational Activities

*Throughout this document, the term “student” will refer to any learner or participant in educational or professional development activities provided by the Indiana University School of Nursing Center for Professional Development and Lifelong Learning.

From: www.iu.edu/~code/code/responsibilities/academic/index.shtml:

Academic misconduct is defined as any activity that tends to undermine the academic integrity of the institution. The university may discipline a student for academic misconduct. Academic misconduct may involve human, hard-copy, or electronic resources.

Policies of academic misconduct apply to all course-, department-, school-, and university-related activities. Academic misconduct includes, but is not limited to, the following:

1. Cheating
2. Fabrication
3. Plagiarism
4. Interference
5. Violation of Course Rules
6. Facilitating Academic Dishonesty

The full policy and University definitions of these types of misconduct can be found at the previously referenced website.

See next page for the academic misconduct procedure for the IU School of Nursing Center for Professional Development and Lifelong Learning.
When a continuing education/professional development student enrolled in or registered for a Center for Professional Development and Lifelong Learning educational activity commits an act of academic misconduct related to a particular activity or course, the faculty member responsible for the course has the authority to initiate misconduct proceedings against the student. In the case of courses or activities without a designated faculty member, the Assistant Dean for the department serves in the role of faculty member of record.

I. Action by Faculty Member Related to Academic Misconduct

A. When the faculty member has either discovered or been given information indicating that a student has committed an act of academic misconduct related to a professional development activity or course, the faculty member of record must initiate efforts to determine if academic misconduct really did occur. Within 5 business days (excluding University recognized holidays and breaks; henceforth, referred to as 5 business days) of the discovery or receiving the information of possible academic misconduct, the faculty member must schedule a meeting with the student. During that meeting, the faculty member must:
   1. Advise the student of the alleged act of misconduct and the information upon which the allegation is based
   2. Provide an opportunity for the student to respond to the allegation
   3. Complete a Professional Development Academic Misconduct Reporting form (see appendix).

B. After the meeting, if the faculty member concludes that the student did commit an act of misconduct, the faculty member is authorized to impose an academic sanction related to the particular course involved. Sanctions for academic misconduct may include, but are not limited to, any one or a combination of the following:
   1. No formal penalty is assessed, but the student is given a written reprimand by the instructor outlining the offense and the results of the discussion with the student.
   2. The student may be required to repeat or resubmit the work or to complete some additional work for any course work involved in the act of misconduct.
   3. The student may be:
      a. Given a lower grade than the student would otherwise have received for any course work (such as, an assignment, examination or paper) involved in the act of misconduct, as well as the final course grade. In any situation, the awarded grade may be an “F” or “fail” if the activity is pass/fail.
      b. Required to withdraw from the course, receiving no completion certificate, no contact hours, and no monetary refund for registration fees.
c. Prohibited from participating in any future courses or activities offered by the department.

C. Whenever any sanction is imposed, the faculty member must, within 5 business days, report the matter and sanction imposed to the Assistant Dean for the department, using the Academic Misconduct Reporting Form. Copies should be sent to:
   1. The student
   2. The Assistant Dean for the Center for Professional Development and Lifelong Learning

D. Until the case has been resolved, the faculty member must allow the student to continue attending and participating in the course, to complete all assignments, and to have a grade in the course recorded normally. If the case is resolved in favor of the student completing and passing the activity or course, this information will be necessary to assign the student the earned contact hours or certificate of completion.

E. After the student has been informed, the Assistant Dean has the authority to impose additional sanctions if the Assistant Dean believes that such a sanction is justified because of the nature of the student’s misconduct or because of the student’s prior reported act of misconduct. Such sanctions may include:
   1. Not awarding contact hours or certificate of completion, with no refund of registration fee
   2. Prohibiting the student from participating in future activities or courses offered by the Center for Professional Development and Lifelong Learning.

F. If a student denies responsibility or admits responsibility but disagrees with the sanction, s/he may schedule a meeting to review his/her case with the Assistant Dean via a request in writing to the Assistant Dean submitted within 5 business days of receipt of the Reporting Form. The Assistant Dean will make a final decision regarding the responsibility and sanction imposed.
